

April 14th

I also had Mr. Chipp go out with me to designate as nearly as he could the position of his lines - He knew but little about them but said the man he had bought of told him his S. line was about 3 ft or two for north - I also had a talk with Mr. Gibson who owns up to the line on the south. He knew nothing about the said south line - but Mr. Chipp told told him the line was about 3 ft two for north - and possibly it was.

I did not consider the evidence sufficient to deviate from the well established boundaries of the piece - and not being able to come near the old lines by an exact description according to the deed - I assume the old lines to be the legal
